The Estate of Dr. Joan Snyder with proceeds going to the University of Calgary

Dr. Joan Snyder was a visionary philanthropist, enthusiastic community builder and 'grandmother' of Canadian women's hockey. An Order of Canada member, Joan Snyder was committed to helping those in need and bringing about change in the broader community.

Snyder, who lived for most of her life in Calgary, passed away April 7, 2022, at the age of 90. Those closest to Snyder describe her as "vibrant and engaging, bright and eager – the salt of the earth." Snyder moved from Saskatchewan to Calgary in the early 1950s. She lived with and worked alongside her parents, helping build a successful family business. Unwavering in her commitment to help others, she was exceedingly generous in her support of a wide range of non-profit organizations, strongly believing in building the next generation of leaders.

On October 28, 2022, at a Celebration of Life held for Snyder, UCalgary announced that Snyder left a final donation of $67.5 million which will boost research, student learning and athletics across its campuses. Of that total, $35 million will be directed to elevate and advance the Calvin, Phoebe and Joan Snyder Institute for Chronic Diseases - the institute was established in 2008 from a $9-million donation from Snyder followed by significant additional support over the years. Another $30 million will be used to establish the Joan Snyder Fund for Excellence in Kinesiology.

Through her philanthropy, Snyder was also a driving force behind the success of the Calgary-based women's hockey program in Canada. She made a transformational gift in 2011 to create the Joan Snyder Program of Excellence in Women's Hockey at UCalgary – then, a first of its kind in Canada. She was a lifelong hockey fan and would go on to support research on injury prevention in female athletes at UCalgary's Faculty of Kinesiology, along with the Hayley Wickenheiser Award Endowment, a scholarship in Wickenheiser's name for varsity women athletes. Joan was truly a champion of the female game. She not only gave financially at every level of female hockey in Canada, but she also was a huge cheerleader, a fan, a friend and a true grandmother to all female hockey players in this country.

Snyder was awarded the Order of Canada in November 2013, for her "contributions as a generous philanthropist who has supported sport, education, social services, the arts and health care in Alberta".

There are 73 lots in this auction from the Snyder estate and are indicated with red lot numbers. Proceeds from these works will help fulfill Joan's wishes to support the University of Calgary.

*"Philanthropy is more than money, it's people helping people...
just as my parents taught me.
Better a booster than a knocker, be."*
